~~"Love is Not For Sale" sounds like a fun and sweet rom-com which this is not. Yes, the two main characters are one of the cutest couples I'd seen, but this show is NOT about their undying love. The original Chinese title "Qi Feng Dui Shou" is a chengyu (=Chinese idiom) and means "meeting a worthy opponent in chess".~~

~~Lizzie Borden - This Is Not Love Lyrics. This, this, this is not love. I don't know what it is. But I know this, this is not love. You touch with selfish hands. This is not love. You speak in cold demands. This is not love. Whatever you take, it isn't giving. When I, I have no choice. What kind of life am I living, if I, I have no voice?~~

~~Lizzie Borden - This is Not Love Lyrics~~

~~Love is not force. 2. Love is not needing to be with each other every single moment to the detriment of other friendships, interests, or life experiences. 3. Love is not smushing your two independent identities together to become one unit who is not capable of existing without the other person. 4. Love is not uncertain about where it stands.~~

~~Lust VS Love. It's possible to confuse love for lust, but the 2 are not the same. How can you tell the difference? Well, if you're more interested in the bedroom than conversation, or you're focused on your partner's looks, or you don't like to sleep over after intimacy - you're probably feeling lust rather than love. Love also should not fade with time; instead, true love is, as is the polar star, "ever-fixed" and lasts forever. The movement of 116, like its tone, is careful, controlled, laborious...it defines and redefines its subject in each quatrain, and this subject becomes increasingly vulnerable.

The speaker in Edna St. Vincent Millay's sonnet "Love Is Not All" describes reality and crushes the fairy tale belief that love brings infinite happiness and solves all problems. This narrator expresses her thoughts on falling in love throughout the poem; bluntly, she describes life's most basic necessities, which love cannot replace.
